It was a merry Christmas morning and Santa had just delivered some magic powder
for the Great Creepo Zeepo for his famous magic trick .

But Santa must have read the map upside down because he delivered the magic powder to a bakery 1000 miles away from the Great Creepo Zeepo theater and when the Great Creepo Zeepo ran outside to get his gift
he looked at the bag of flour
on the ground and said
Is this a joke!
and threw it away in the trash.

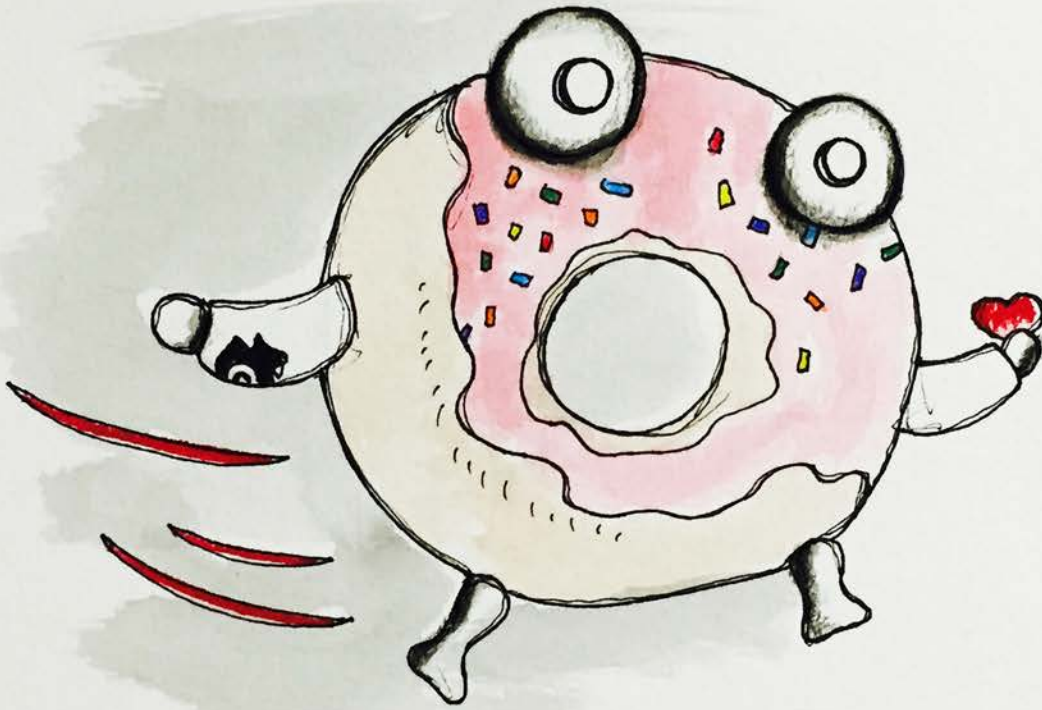

Meanwhile 1000 miles away
the baker looked outside and saw a bag of powder
thought it must be flour
and then brought it in to the bakery.

He started to make one doughnut just in case
the powder was not flour and was for something else.
So the baker started to make the doughnut with his secret recipe
but then the impossible happened.

The doughnut came to life
and ran from the bakery!

Then he slowed down at the library
one block away and looked at a sign that read Absolutely no food allowed!
And I do not know how that doughnut learned its ABCs but...

Then the doughnut wanted
to go to a theme park
but there was
another sign that read
Absolutely no
outside food allowed!

Now he walked a mile away
and wanted to go to the theater
to see a movie
but he had no money
but he had sprinkles .
Anyway the manager
kicked him out saying
Absolutely NO
outside food allowed!

His final stop was a house
that he found.

He walked up the steps
looked at the doormat
which said Welcome!
and sighed with relief.

He rang the blue doorbell.

Finally a man with no beard looked out the door and said

Hello little guy!

The doughnut
was delighted and said
Call me Sprinkles please.

The man said
All right Sprinkles.

Come on in.
It is cold outside.

The man and Sprinkles
went inside and sat in a chair... drinking hot cocoa near the fire.

Then the man with no beard said
Can I be your friend for the rest of my life!
Sprinkles answered Yes!

And so the man and the doughnut were friends for a very long time...

until the man ate him.

After the man used the restroom

the toilet came alive!

In horror the man

ran out of the house.

Next...

The Terrifying Toilet of Doom!

THE END... maybe.
